Letters of thanks were ordered written to Governor Stevenson, the Cubic Piano Company, Mr. L. T. Christian and Whitte & Shepperson for their kind co-operation and aid in making the lecture a success. A similar letter will be sent to every organization of women in the city. A number of ladies signed the petition.

Mrs. Gill announced her intention of giving two excursions in the spring for the benefit of the chapter—one to Jamestown Island and one to the Jamestown Exposition grounds.

Mrs. W. R. Vawter will report at the next meeting on badges for the reunion. A benefit performance at Bostock's Arena will be given on Thursday, March 7th, under the auspices of the chapter. A special program will be prepared and tickets may be had a week beforehand from Mrs. N. V. Randolph. Proceeds will go to the Jamestown building fund.

The president spoke at some length concerning the program of the chapter, building at the exposition. She said that the house is at present being plastered; that it stands on a beautiful site, and that fourteen hundred dollars has already been paid; that the Daughters hope to dine of hard work, to free themselves from debt at the end of this year. Richmond Chapter, taking into account the profits of the lecture, will have contributed two hundred dollars, or four-fifths of the amount pledged by it to the building.

The Saint and the Satyr

(Mediaeval legend.)

By WILLIAM WATSON.

Other selections from this author, his portrait, autograph and biographical sketch, have already been printed in this series.

Saint Anthony the hermit,
He wandered in the world,
And there he saw a hooved wight
That blew his hands for cold.

"What dost thou here in misery,
That better far wert dead?"
The hermit Saint Anthony
Unto the Satyr said.

"Lorn in the world," the thing replied,
"I sit and make my moan,
For all the gods I loved have died,
And I am left alone.

"Silent in Paphos Venus sleeps,
And Jove on Ida mute;
And every living creature weeps
Pan and his perished flute.

"The Faun, his laughing heart is broke;
The nymph, her fountain falls;
And driven from out the hollow oak
The Hamadryad wails.

"A God more beautiful than mine
Hath conquered mine, they say—
Ah! to that fair young God of thine,
For me I pray thee pray!"

MAKE COLLECTION OF PHOTOGRAPHS

Veterans Will Have Display Representing Confederate Monuments Erected in Virginia.

Grand Commander of Virginia Confederate Camps W. H. Stewart, of Portsmouth, and Inspector-General T. C. Morton, of Staunton, have determined to try to collect photographs of all the Confederate monuments in Virginia for exhibition in Richmond at the United Confederate Veterans' reunion in May, and of the State reunion in Norfolk in October. Ultimately the exhibit may find its way to the Jamestown Exposition. At the grand camp meeting in Roanoke last fall the Inspector-General reported ninety-seven monuments built and seven others on the way.

As there are so many good photos of these monuments to Confederate valor, well arranged, would make a unique and most interesting display and a very impressive one to visitors from all over the land.

The assistance in gathering this collection is asked of every interested veteran and friend of the Lost Cause. Those who may have such photographs or be able to secure them are asked, as a labor of love, to send them as they can to Colonel W. H. Stewart, Portsmouth, or Captain T. C. Morton, Staunton, and the thoughtful act will be appreciated highly by every member of the Grand Camp of Virginia.

As these monuments are in every county of the State and in almost every county and important town, the newspapers generally will confer a great favor on the friends of the cause, if they will pass along this notice and request.

LOWER FARE BILL FAILS.

Railways Win Their Fight in South Carolina Assembly.

Railway officials generally are not a little elated at the defeat of a bill in the South Carolina Legislature which proposed to fix the maximum passenger fare at 2-1/2 cents. A special from Columbia thus tells the story:

"The bill which has been up before the South Carolina Legislature looking to the reduction of passenger fares in this State to 2-1/2 cents per mile has been defeated. It was argued that the people of South Carolina prefer better transportation facilities to lower rates. It was asserted that the railroads could not stand a reduction in their passenger fares.

"There is considerable activity among the railroads in the purchase of new equipment and new tracking, and the traveling public is realizing a reduction in fares would not be beneficial."

SALOONISTS FINED.

Jefferson Hotel Reported for Violating Unlawful Law.

Under the Unlawful law, saloons must be removed from the outside of the saloons, or else there will be trouble between the bartender and Justice Crutched. The latter is firm in his stand to impose the heavy fine of $100 upon all who transgress.

Yesterday morning the Jefferson Hotel bar was reported. A fine of $100 was imposed. The bar is in the basement of the hotel, and there is a small hole in the door through which the son of the hotel has been seen.

An appeal was taken. Hugh M. O'Neill, who conducts a saloon on the Mechanicsville road, and in the territory recently annexed to Richmond, did not allow a clear view of the interior of his place, and he was fined $100. He too, appealed.

Then came a negro woman who had conducted a speak-easy. She was told to remove her bar, and in addition to spend four months in jail.

FACTORY BURNED.

Supposed to Have Caught from Spark from Engine.

The box factory of M. W. B. Bynum, of No. 2100 Poplar Street, Fulton, was destroyed by fire at 5 o'clock yesterday morning. It is supposed that the fire started from a spark from a passing engine.

An employee of the Lower Gas Works first discovered the flames, and after trying to smother them, turned in an alarm. Engine Companies Nos. 2 and 3 and Truck No. 2 responded at once.

The flames were reported to the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson, of No. 2005 Williamsburg Avenue, and but for the prompt work of the firemen, the dwelling would have been ruined.

The damage to the factory will amount to about $30,000. There was no insurance.

WORK OF WOMEN.

Five Barrels Received by Capt. Pratt Yesterday.

Responding to the appeal of Captain G. Julian Pratt, superintendent of exhibits, Virginia State Commission, Jamestown Exposition, there was received at the office of the commission, No. 3 South Ninth Street, from Mr. Robert L. Harts, of Strasburg, Shenandoah county, Va., five barrels, containing 120 choice specimens of domestic products illustrating the housekeeping for which the ladies of Virginia have always been celebrated. This is the contribution from one neighborhood. All sections of the State should respond in a like manner, and the aggregate would be a splendid exhibit of women's domestic products.

Age Party.

"The Blue Ribbon Social Club gave an 'age party' at East's Hall, on Church Hill, Wednesday evening, for the benefit of the club. Those present were: Misses Kate Baker, Blanche Stratton, Aylis Boshier, Mena Greenstreet, Mamie Whitman, Virginia Tomlin, Estelle Clark, Elsie, Lillian, Lillian, Alma Whitman, Mamie Hardy, Corn Mundlin, Messrs. Benjamin Parker, Geo. Peiter, John Ball, Harvey Taylor, Aubrey Newton, Bernard Hall, Harry E. Tint, Tawell Blanton, Robert Sims, Ewell Hubbard, Freddie Greenstreet, Robert Austin, Roy Selph, Willie Puy, Freddie Lane and Charles Trevillian.

WILL REPORT SOON ON PLUMBERS' STRIKE

Board of Arbiters Hold Meeting and Make Much Headway with Work.

The board of arbiters in the strike of the plumbers of Richmond met yesterday afternoon in the office of Mr. Joseph Bryan. The other members of the board were: Mr. W. J. Griggs and Judge W. J. Leake. The board heard a number of witnesses and considered their report, which is said to be nearly completed. They will meet again next week, when it is probable that the final report will be issued. In the meantime the plumbers are at work, on a tentative agreement, until the report of the arbiters is received.

VETERANS STILL NEED MUCH MONEY

It will not be many days now before the Confederate Reunion fund reaches the $15,000 mark, as yesterday's contributions aggregated $337, and made the total in hand $12,564.75. Added to this is the $20,000 which both branches of the City Council have agreed to appropriate.

It is still incumbent upon the old soldiers to raise almost $12,500 more, as it will take every penny of $45,000 to entertain the visiting veterans even in an unpretentious way. In this connection, however, it should be remembered that out of the fund raised several thousand dollars must have to be spent for arranging quarters for the old soldiers who come here at the expense of the local committees. Then, too, hundreds of dollars will go for music and decorations. The heaviest item of all, however, will be the feeding and quartering of the 10,000 or more gray-coated warriors who will be guests of Richmond for nearly a week. These venerable men, when they turn their faces to the capital of the Confederacy for the last time, must be accorded the best of treatment, and the reunion committees are going to see that they get it.

Yesterday's contributions to the expense fund are as follows:

NEW FEATURES FOR SUMMER NORMALS

Plan Worked Out by the Department of Education.

Many new features are being prepared for the University Summer School for advanced teachers, and there are to be a number of local institutes. The general plan of the University Summer School has been summarized as follows:

First. Those first-grade teachers who have already attended the district summer school.

Second. Those teachers in high schools and academies who wish to review and advance their knowledge of special subjects.

Third. For those principals and superintendents of schools who wish to acquaint themselves with the most practical and acceptable methods of school administration.

Fourth. Those college students who are unwilling to waste three and one-half months of time during the vacation, but who would come from all Southern institutions to continue their studies if such opportunity should be offered.

The following places have been decided upon for the local institutes: Covington, Winchester, Fredericksburg, Big Stone Gap, Emory, Standardsville and Grundy. Others will be chosen later.

Mr. Eggleston left yesterday for Charlottesville, where he will meet a committee, which is at work on a revised course of teaching in the primary and grammar schools.
